

The candidate submits the topic of the lecture in their proposal for the initiation of the procedure for appointment as a professor.

In the lecture, the candidate will briefly introduce their field and its current development and will inform the Scientific Council of FHS UK about the contribution of their scientific and pedagogical work to the development of the field and about the concept and goals of their further scientific and pedagogical activity. The lecture at the FHS UK Scientific Council lasts a maximum of twenty minutes and is delivered without reading the script; the candidate can use different types of presentation of their choice.
